Before Judge Ingraham. ew York and Brooklyn Ferry Company vs. smith.-The plaintiffs are owners of upad on the east side of the East river and have rur out a pier for the purposes of a ferry. The defend ds land adjoining on a lease, and commence building a pier next to Maintiffs. Plaintiffs ob building a pier next to plaintiffs. Plaintiffs obtained an injunction against defendant, and brought suit to make it perpetual, claiming adverse possession, having occupied the water adjoining.

Judge Ingraham, in his opinion, says there can be no adverse possession of land under water, unless the land be built upon. By the law of 1857 the defendants are entitled to fill in to the builthead line, but a water way of 180 feet must be left between the piers. This he considers burdensome to small owners of river fronts; but being the law the only relief is from the Legislature. He declines to grant the injunction, as the plaintiffs can sue for any damage which they may suitain at the hands of defendants.

The Florida Railroad Litigation. Francis Vose vs. Moses Taylor and Others.—The nd brought a suit against the trustees to pay the interest on his bonds out of some money in their their hands was realized by the sale of lands used to redeem the bonds and "not to be on them."

Judge Ingraham says:—"It seems to me there is nothing to justify any judgment of the court directing the application of these funds to the payment of the coupons. If the plaintiff was willing to receive the pro rata amount awarded to the bondholders generally, in the sale of his bonds, and the defendants refused to purchase them on these terms, a different case would be presented." Judgment for the defendants.

Action to Acquire Title to Property. wel T. Knapp et al. vs. Wm. T. Blodgett.—This was an action to acquire: title to city property under a lease on a tax sale. The property in question was sold to Jacob Schieffelin in 1822 for taxes, with a twenty-five years' lease. In 1847, though the lease expired, Scheiffelin remained in possession. Finally it was bought on another tax sale on a lease for 1.00

It was bought on another tax sale on a lease for 1,000 years. The defendant is heir of the owner of the property before the first tax sale.

Judge Ingraham helds that "the plaintiffs show themselves to have a good title by legal possession, independent of the right assumed by the lease of 1856, which is for 1,000 years, and which, if valid, will confer a title not likely to be disturbed by any claimant at its expiration. Having arrived at this conclusion that the plaintiffs have a good title to the lots in controversy, it follows that they are entitled to judgment."

THE MEYERS-SCHROEDER CASE.

Adah Meyers on the Stand-Married at Thir teen-Divorced in Six Weeks-Makes a Fresh Engagement-Deceives and Goes for Schroeder.

One of the most barefaced schemes of attempted blackmailing on the one hand, or of evasion of consequences, should the charges be true, on the other, has came to light in the case the title of which heads this article. The case of Meyers agains Schroeder, in which the plaintiff claims to have been the victim of the guiles of the defendant, a young gentleman of most respectable standing in New York society, has been for several days passunder investigation before Judge Dowling, at the Tombs Police Court. It was only last week, how ever, that for the first time the defendant, under advice, put his case into the hands of an emiadvice, put his case into the hands of an eminent lawyer, who, with such facts as his young client was able to present, at once claimed to discover that the prosecution was actuated from grist to last by the incentive of blackmailing. The whole particulars of the case from the prosecution standpoint—that of Miss Adah Meyers—have already appeared in the Herald. Mr. Schroeder, the defendant, in his defence, so far as it proceeded yesterday before Judge Dowling, gives a very different version of the story; and should be eventually prove his statement, he will certainly not only relieve himself of the serious charges against him, but will place the young lady in a very serious dilemma.

Some overtures for a settlement of the case have, it is said, been made to Mr. James, Mr. Schroeder's lately engaged counsel; but these were indignantly repelled, and defendant and his counsel have entered to the defendant and his counsel have entered to the defendant with a determinant. nately engaged counsel; but these were indignantly repelled, and defendant and his counsel have entered on the defence with a determination to have the whole charges, if possible, and their defence thereto, and their refutation, made as public as the one-sided statements which trist appeared in the papers render it necessary that they smould be.

Mr. Rooert Schroeder, a well known down town merchant, was charged about ten days ago, before Justice Dowling, with procuring an abortion upon a young lady who was known as Miss Adan Meyers.

Meyers.

The particulars of the case have been already given, and since the defendant was held to ball there have been all kinds of contradictory statements as to who this young lady is, the Schroeder party contending that it is a case of "black" mailing" by a well known fraud, while the Meyers party claim that she is young, and until she knew Schroeder was innocent and respectable.

The defendant appeared before Justice Dowling, in the examination rooms, where all the parties concerned were present.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH CONSECRATION.

Trinity church, at Princeton, N. J., one of the handsomest stone Gothic Episcopal edifices in the State of New Jersey, was consecrated in due and ancient form in accordance with the ceremonies of that Church, on Tuesday last, by the Right Rev. Bisnop of the diocese, W. H. Oldenheimer, in presence of a large assemblage of clergy and laity. Among the former were, besides Rev. J. N. Stansbury and other leading Episcopalian clergymen, Rev. Dr. McCosh. President of Princeton College, and Professors Moffat and Green of the same institution. The Ishop preached a sermon overflowing with sound ecclesiastical truths and inferences from the Scriptural text, "The glory of the latter house shall exceed the glory of the former," and interpreted the words of the prophet, that the Most High, in uttering these words, meant that the glory of the old temple, built by Solomon, should be exceeded by the glory of the rew one built by the Jews. In the evening, at a confirmation, quite a number of the college students had the rite confered on them.

The church is abuilt in experience and is to be that Church, on Tuesday last, by the Right Rev. red on them.

The church is built in cruciform shape and is to be surmeanted by a noble spire. A chime of bells is also to be provided. The building cost about $40,000. Mr. Upjohn, of this city, is the architect.

GOLD WEAK AND LOWER. The gold market was weak, and the tempt ation to sell for a decline seems to have given a new impulse to the lower tendency of the premium. The speculators for a rise are thoroughly demoralized by the exceptions, have sold out. The government sale, in eliciting bids for over three millions, temporarily checked the downward movement at noon to-day, and the price relief a few points from the bound more rallied on the report of the defeat of the Currency Contraction bill. At the close it again fell off, exhibiting the inherent weakness of the market, which is now influenced by the glut of gold in the New York banks, with the prospect of another heavy addition to their store when the Treasury disburses the thirty-five millions of gold due July 1. THE MONBY MARKET.

The money market presents the same features of case and abundance. The general rate on call is four per cent, with exceptions at three on govern ments and at five on stocks. Judging from the tone of the money markets in the West it is evident that we have reached the climax of abundant money at this centre for the present season. Money is leaving Chicago and other Western cities to go into the in terior to move the remnant of last year's crops, and also, perhaps, in preparation for the moving of this year's. Our banks have seldom been so strongly fortified, and could stand a steady, heavy drain of funds for a good while to come without forcing them to contract their loans. Moreover, it is a question whether the West will need as much currency this fall as last, for the reason that the price of wheat is lower than then (although much higher than last winter), while the crops themselves will not be as large, because the depression in the wheat market last winter checked extensive plant ing operations this spring. While the rate on call will not descend below the present figures there is little chance that it will advance until toward the fall, and then hardly beyond seven per cent. Commercial paper is scarce and sells freely at six per cent for prime double names.

POREIGN EXCHANGE LOWER. The inactivity in the exchange market led to a further reduction of rates on the part of the leading bankers. There is now a difference of only a haif per cent between "long" and "short" sterling bills, owing to the easier money market in London. The following are the quotations:-Sterling, sixty days, commercial, 109% a 109%; good to prime bankers', 109% a 109%; short sight, 110% a 110%; Paris, sixty days, 5.18% a 5.13%; short sight, 5.13% a 5.11%; Antwerp, 5.18% a 5.13%; Switzerland, 5.18% a 5.13%; Hamburg, 35% a 36%; Amsterdam, 40% a 41%; Frankfort, 40% a 41; Bremen, 78% a 79%; Prussian thaiers, 70% a 71%.

The government market was very steady, despite the lower price of gold, the decline in which in its influence upon national securities has been fully counterbalanced by the advance in five-twenties at London. The agention of the funding question produced a dull market, but not a weak one. Upon the announcement of the rejection of the funding sec-tions of the Currency bill the market advanced and closed strong, as follows:-United States currency sixes, 114% a 116; do. sixes, 1881, regiscurrency sixes, 114% a 116; do. do., coupon, 118% a 118%; do. five-twenties, registered, May and November, 111 a 111%; do. do., 1862, coupon, do., 112 a 112%; do. do., 1864, do. do., 111% a 111%; do. do., 1865, do. do., 111% a 111½; do. do., 1865, coupon, January and July, 113½ a 113½; do. do., 1867, do. do., 114 a 114½; do. do., 1868, do. do., 114 a 114%; do. ten-forties, regis-

SOUTHERN SECURITIES STRONG.
In the Southern list the Tennessees have been firm at improved quotations, in response to the Nashville telegram that Governor Senter announces his intention of positively vetoing any bill which proposes to repudiate any of the containing leads to the composes to repudiate any of the bonds issued to the railways. This seems to be a blow at the so-called "scaling" bill, which is partially repudiatory in its character, and has aiready progressed to its second reading.
The State agent of South Carolina advertises that he will pay the July coupons in gold.
